

THE PLEASURE OF OUTDOOR COOKING, ALSO IN WINTER!

Imagine you've just enjoyed a refreshing walk through a beautifully autumn-coloured landscape, you've given yourself a breath of fresh air at the seaside, or you've ploughed your way through the first fallen snow. What could be lovelier than filling the hungry stomachs afterwards around a glowing charcoal fire?

Belgian barbecue producer barbecook® has a whole product range that allows you to sit and cook outdoors also during the winter months. From cast iron kettles in which you can prepare delicious stews, over fire baskets around which you can warm up, to garden torches in all formats that add atmosphere to your garden.

You've invited friends or family? Make it a special party by organising a pleasant evening of outdoor cooking. It's guaranteed to be a unique experience for you and your guests! To get in the mood, you can watch this clip (<http://www.barbecook.com/en/club/video.asp>).
